

“My job is all about leadership, not just taking orders.”

Ross Regional Sales Managers are full-time, salaried mixing experts who apply decades of experience to every application. Manufacturers throughout the U.S. process industries rely on the insights they can provide to boost production and improve end-product quality.

With the world's widest selection of technology and equipment designs for mixing and blending, a Ross Regional Sales Manager can help optimize your process, too.

Contact Ross today to put our experience to work in your plant. Call 1-800-243-ROSS or visit mixers.com
